(50) A design one-on-one

The future is now

Bossini presents its futuristic shower-head: Aquavolo - a horizontal, rotating panel that delivers two different sprays with an innovative concept. Experience water in its natural form: as a wide rain shower or as a powerful waterfall. Set in the horizontal position Aquavolo delivers a "tropical rain." Pulling it down in vertical position automatically transforms the water into a refreshing waterfall. For the full experience, the shower is now also available with music and chromotherapy features.
